

I am often given a name tag to wear whenever I attend a networking event. What is the proper place to wear it?

A name tag must be worn about four inches below your right shoulder. The reason is that when you shake hands, it comfortably allows the other person to move his or her gaze along your outstretched arm to your name tag.